Release Version: 1.9

Document Revision: B
Document Date: April 27, 2023

Summary

This latest release of Actify APM is focused on ensuring that Program and Project managers are fully aware of the impact of changes on the project and progress toward overall Program deliverables.

New Features

Required By Dates (RBD's)

Knowing when customer milestones are due is key to Program managers and their teams.

Actify APM now allows managers to configurably define key customer dates which are then displayed in the Program Dashboard and on their related project timeline views.

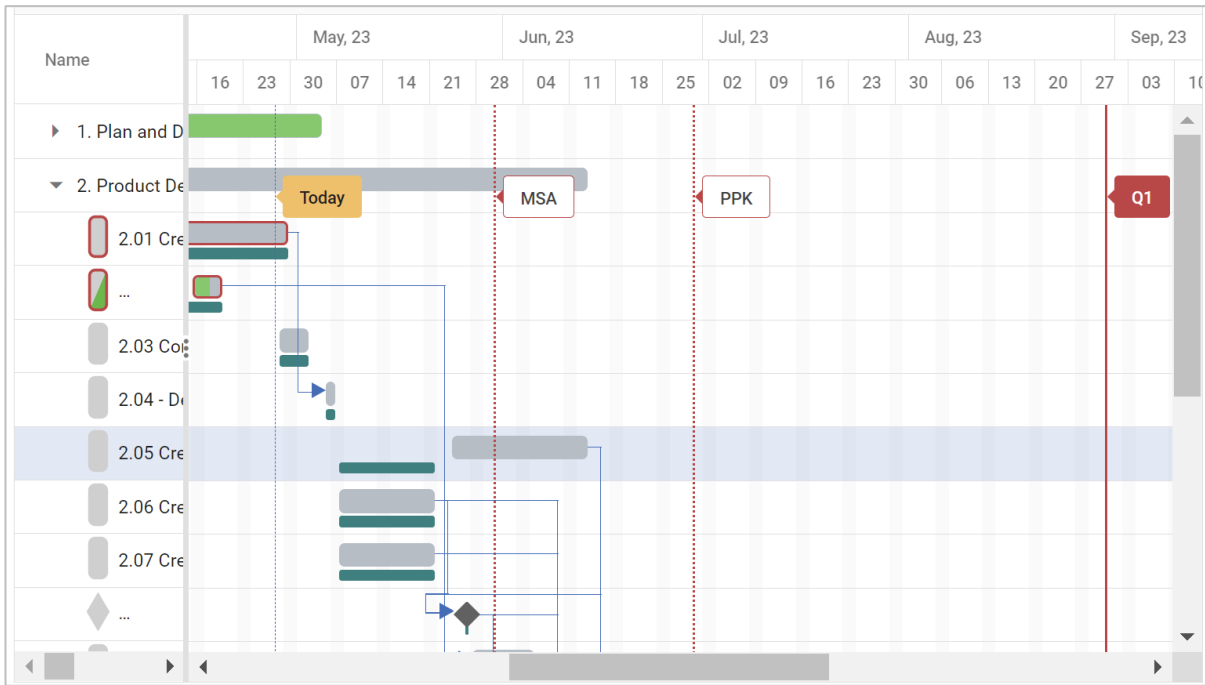

This ensures team awareness of approaching key dates and the impact timing changes may have on meeting them.

Dual View Project Timelines

Change is a constant in project management, making the ability to evaluate the impact of schedule changes critically important.

The unique Dual View shows the impact of what-if changes or the schedule improvement options being evaluated, so that managers can assess their impact against RBDs and the timeline of the overall and all its tasks – before deciding to apply them to the Active plan.

Improvements

Improved Messaging

APM continues to improve user notifications to reduce “noise” and focus attention on what matters.

With this release, the reduced number of messages received by the impacted team members, such as task owners or approvers, incorporate summary links to both the Program and the Project that the message applies to, in addition to direct links to the task to be worked on or item pending their approval.

For 15+ years, Actify has been helping manufacturers visualize and interact with design and engineering information. Our easy-to-use technology solutions streamline automotive program management to help suppliers and OEMs accomplish their strategic goals.
